ON RANCH OF HIS BROTHER

President Taft Will Rest Until Friday Afternoon.

TO LEAD A RANCHMAN'S LIFE

Nation's Chief Executive Also Proposes to Do Some Fishing, Play a Little Golf and May Try His Hand at Shooting Ducks if Conditions Are Good—Ambitious to Land a Tarpon and Try New Golf Sticks.

Gregory, Tex., Oct. 19.—When President Taft reached here he was met at the station by his brother, Charles P. Taft, and immediately carried off to the 100,000-acre Taft ranch on Corpus Christi bay.

Until Friday afternoon the president will remain at the ranch, enjoying the rest and quiet of a ranchman's life. Linen suits and soft hats were brought along and the president proposes to do a little bit of fishing, some golfing, and maybe a little shooting if the conditions are good.

It will require a norther to drive the ducks in, and the chances are that the president will not have a shot at them. He is ambitious to land a tarpon, however, and eager to try out some of the golf sticks that have been presented to him during the journey that is now more than two-thirds over.

Charles P. Taft has secured a strong saddle horse for the use of his brother and the president will do considerable riding about the cotton fields and over the range, where several thousand cattle are grazing.

The Taft ranch is one of the most complete in the world. It is devoted almost exclusively to the raising of cattle and cotton, and on the estate is a complete tanning establishment, as well as a big cotton gin. Several miles in from the entrance to the ranch is the farmhouse, a great, rocky structure, equipped with all modern conveniences and resembling more a villa at Newport than a ranch house in southwest Texas.

San Antonio, hot, hospitable and dusty, was left behind in the afternoon. A review of the troops at Fort San Houston, the laying of the cornerstone of the new chapel, which, by an upside down process, the president dedicated the previous night; a reception by 14,000 school children, a speech to a crowd of 10,000 on the Alamo plaza, and a luncheon at the St. Anthony constituted the programme.

IN AGGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN

Lady Cook Will Lead Suffragettes in the United States.

New York, Oct. 19.—Lady Cook, formerly Tennessee Claflin, the most strenuous of pioneers in the fight for the enfranchisement of women, arrived on the Celtic and brought with her matured plans for "the greatest campaign ever waged for woman's rights."

Lady Cook was welcomed by an enthusiastic band of suffragettes, who went down the bay at dawn in a gaily-decked tug and escorted the ship up the harbor, while the Celtic's band played and the passengers cheered.

At the dock eight yellow decked automobiles with the reception committee, at the head of which was Mrs. Sophia Loebinger and Miss Helen Murphy, met the distinguished visitor, and whirled her up to the headquarters of the National Progressive Woman Suffrage union, where an informal reception was held.

"I am just here now for a short preliminary tour to prepare for the vigorous campaign which we expect to begin in December," explained Lady Cook.

"As the first maneuver I have arranged to transfer part of my fortune, at least $1,000,000, to America.

"I have arranged a tour from the Atlantic to the Pacific. I will charter a special car, and, with a small entourage of each town and city from the rear platform of the car.

"And I shall take with me some mighty good-looking women—women who are as handsome as they are smart. I want to dispel the delusion that all workers for political equality are angular, ugly old women.

"I expect to introduce real London militantism here. The pink tea method will never work. Women have begged and prayed for the ballot long enough."

MAKES REMARKABLE FLIGHT

French Aviator Circles the Eiffel Tower With a Biplane.

Paris, Oct. 19.—Count DeLambert, the French aviator, made a remarkable and sensational flight in a Wright biplane. Leaving the Juvisy aviation field he flew to Paris; circled the Eiffel tower, at times reaching a height of about 1,000 feet above the city, and then returned to Juvisy.

A few minutes before Count DeLambert returned to the aviation field here from his flight to Paris, Alfred M. Blanc, the French aeronaut, attempted his first flight in a Bleriot machine. Shortly after ascending, the monoplane, as the result of a false shift of the rudder, turned into the tribune and fell, mortally wounding a woman and injuring a dozen other persons.

When Lambert left the aerodrome at Juvisy he was traveling at a height of about 250 feet, and headed northward. Half an hour later the population of Paris was amazed to see high in the air the biplane approaching the city. As the machine neared the Seine it mounted higher and higher, finally passing 300 feet above the Eiffel tower, or 1,500 feet from the ground. The machine then described a wide curve and headed southward.

PRISONER FAKED ILLNESS

Operation Shows He Did Not Have Appendicitis.

St. Louis, Oct. 19.—Frank Hiller, nineteen years old, who was arrested two months ago and sentenced to six months in the workhouse for passing worthless checks, is a patient and prisoner at the city hospital under remarkable circumstances.

Hiller, when taken from the workhouse to the hospital ten days ago, apparently was suffering from appendicitis. Four days ago he was operated on and his appendix was removed. Dr. Kirchner declares the patient simulated agony he did not experience and attempted to work on the sympathies of attendants for hidden motives.

It is believed Hiller intended either to make a dash for liberty or to write letters to relatives telling them of his sufferings and asking their aid. The hospital physicians say he faked his suffering and brought the operation on for the simple purpose of working out his plans.

RAILROAD BUYS TOWNSITES

Great Northern Deals for Lands Along Proposed New Cutoff.

Coopertown, N. D., Oct. 19.—Activity upon the part of Great Northern right of way agents in the purchase of property for townsite purposes along the proposed new cutoff line continues. The sale of several pieces of property in Griggs county has just been recorded, while options have been secured on several others. The townsite properties are being purchased by the Great Northern Townsite company. The starting point of this new line is as yet uncertain, but indications are that it will be at Arr. Cass county, from which point a survey was started several years ago.

Killed by Falling on Rocks.

Wausau, Wis., Oct. 19.—Emil Loeffler, twenty-one years old, was killed at the Curtis and Yale factory, when the scaffold on which he was standing painting broke. He fell forty-five feet, landing on a pile of rocks.

THOUSANDS IN CHICAGO PARADE

Gipsy Smith Leads Crusaders Through Tenderloin.

MANY WOMEN IN THE LINE

But Some of Them Dropped Out on the Edge of the Segregated District. Denizens of the Underworld Exhorted to Turn From Their Path of Sin—Elaborate Police Precautions Taken to Prevent Disorder.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Led by a battalion of police and thrilled with the crash of five brass bands, 15,000 men and women, led by the famous Romany evangelist, Gipsy Smith, marched into the heart of Chicago's most notorious underworld jungle, known as the "Twenty-second street levee."

This spectacular religious display—climax of the Gipsy's three week's revival here—was witnessed, despite the late hour at which it was held, by as many people as could jam the sidewalks along the line of march, which began at the Seventh regiment armory, where the Smith meetings are being held, wound around the three miles of streets and disbanded at a burlesque theater on the edge of the segregated district.

Women formed a large part of the demonstration, and, though a few dropped out when the red lights of the vice-infected region were encountered, the large majority continued to the doors of the demimondes, and, with song and prayer, entreated the amazed inmates to turn from their path of sin. Police restrictions caused the district to take on a deserted appearance. No doors were opened, but through the gaudy windows occupants of the houses were viewed by the evangelist's "army."

There was but little disorder. Chief Steward had taken elaborate police precautions and the great multitude was escorted on their unique midnight mission by hundreds of bluecoats with instructions to arrest the slightest offender. Their mission completed, the zealous church upholders quietly disbanded and the tenderloin once more took on its usual life.

CITY IN INDIAN COUNTRY

Federal Officers Could Close Saloons in Minneapolis.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Owing to the absence of Commissioner Valentine of the Indian bureau it is not possible to get a statement relative to the probable future action of the Indian office, following Judge Morris' declaration that all land covered by treaty of 1855 is "Indian country," and that liquor cannot be sold thereon.

In his discussions of the application of this treaty in the past, however, Mr. Valentine has taken the position that all the bureau desires is to keep liquor away from the Indians, and that treaties and laws would not be invoked against white men.

Last week in an interview he stated that he had no objection to the sale of liquor to white men in towns where Special Agent Johnson had been operating, but only desired to keep liquor away from the Indians, and that he would back up his agents to the fullest extent in carrying out that policy. Indications are, therefore, that the Indian bureau will not make any attempt to enforce the law as interpreted by Judge Morris, in any part of the state except that in which Indians actually reside.

Several years ago the question of whether lands not now occupied by Indians, but covered by the treaty of 1855, were in the "Indian country," it was pointed out at that time that if these lands were decided to be "Indian country," liquor selling could be prohibited in the state, practically from the Canadian boundary southward to and including the city of Minneapolis.

Apparently it is up to District Attorney Haupt to say whether an effort will be made to enforce the anti-liquor selling feature of the treaty on lands not now occupied by Indians.

MRS. FROHMAN SEEKS DIVORCE

Noted Actress Brings Suit at Reno, Nev.

Reno, Nev., Oct. 19.—Divorce proceedings were filed in the district court here by Mrs. Daniel Frohman, wife of the famous theatrical manager of New York and London, and herself one of the most brilliant stars of the present-day stage, known as Margaret Illington. They were married Nov. 22, 1902.

The ground of action is one of simple desertion and failure to provide. It sets forth that there are no children and no community property involved in the action, and that a simple severance of marital relations is all that is prayed for. The complainant asks for the restoration of her maiden name.

There will be no contest by her husband.

For nearly a year Mrs. Frohman has resided here quietly, never appearing in social events.

Some time ago Mrs. Frohman said she was tired of the stage and wished to lead a domestic life.

It is believed that she will marry when her divorce is granted, Edward Bowes, a wealthy real estate man of San Francisco. When she parted from her husband she admitted that this was her intention, and Mr. Frohman said:

"I don't know of any one who would make her a better husband."

BOOM FOR WAR SECRETARY

Dickinson's Friends Would Send Him to the Senate.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 19.—A senatorial boom has been launched by friends of Secretary of War J. M. Dickinson, who is urged as the successor to United States Senator James F. Frazier. Although it is stated positively that Mr. Dickinson has not been consulted in the matter, Luke Lea, candidate for governor, declares the secretary will state his views at the proper time.

Workman Killed by Train.

Sandstone, Minn., Oct. 19.—Patrick Williamson, forty-five years old, was struck by the Great Northern passenger train bound for St. Paul between Bruno and Partridge. He died in the baggage car while being brought to this city.

Banker Dies From Injuries.

Oshkosh, Wis., Oct. 19.—Leander Choate, seventy-five years old, one of the wealthiest ex-lumbermen and leading bankers of this city, died at his home here from injuries received in a runaway accident several weeks ago.

Gets Limit for Car Robbery.

Marshalltown, Ia., Oct. 19.—Judge J. M. Parker sentenced George Sievers, a well known resident of Gilman, Ia., to five years in the penitentiary for breaking and entering an Iowa Central merchandise car. The sentence is the maximum under the indeterminate law.

WEARS CROWN OF HARRIMAN

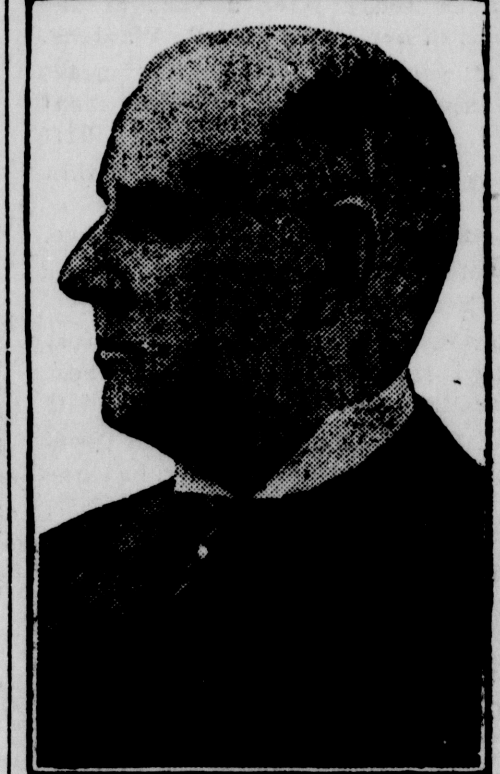

Edwin Hawley the New Railroad King of America.

MILLIONS AT HIS COMMAND

Wealth of Wall Street Back of the New Transportation Magnate—Believed That He Will Build Up a Railroad System That Will Surpass That Created by the Late "Czar of the Pacific."

New York, Oct. 19.—Edwin Hawley has succeeded to the throne of E. H. Harriman as the ruler of the railroads of the United States. Within the past few days there has been a change of alignment of the greatest financial powers in Wall street, and they have proffered to Hawley the backing of the millions which were the essence of the Harriman power, and which, likewise, make Hawley the dominant figure in the American railroad world. This shift of the balance of money power to the support of Hawley marks the most important of several changes in the railroad situation here that have been brought about by the passing of Harriman.

Another change of scarcely less interest during the past few days has been the appearance of a well defined plan to eliminate Harriman influence from the management of railroads outside his own system into which Harriman forced himself during his lifetime.

This is announced on the highest authority.

Harriman's Personal Power Dead.

Briefly, the occurrences of the past few days mean that Edwin Hawley, by virtue of the backing conferred upon him by the greatest money dynasty in America, becomes the new railroad leader; that, with the millions to which he is thus given access he can acquire, build up and dominate a vast railroad system throughout the country that probably will overshadow even the Harriman system; that Harriman's personal power, which enabled him to compel admission to the councils of other railroad systems, died with him and is no longer the formidable weapon it was as long as he lived.

The new order of things does not mean, however, that the Harriman system is to be deprived of a large share of financial support it has enjoyed at the hands of the controlling money powers, nor does it mean that Edwin Hawley is likely to undertake the control of the Harriman system, and there is little likelihood that Hawley will ever enter the management of the Harriman system officially, although there are some who predict that Hawley will ultimately become a member of the Union and Southern Pacific directorates.

Those closest to Hawley, however, believe that he will reign from a throne built up from the extensive railroad system he now controls rather than attempt to transfer the foundation of his dominance to the Harriman system.

SAWMILL BOILER EXPLODES

Seven Persons Killed and Three Others Injured.

El Dorado, Ark., Oct. 19.—Seven employees were killed and three other persons were severely injured when a boiler at the plant of the Griffin sawmill company near El Dorado exploded.

Mrs. J. Reed, wife of the superintendent of the mill, was in her home some distance from the mill. A brick penetrated the wall and injured her severely.

Crushed to Death by Logs.

Duluth, Oct. 19.—Harry Hubbard, proprietor of the Reidal hotel at Carlton, was accidentally killed at Kimberly. He was assisting in the unloading of a carload of timber for the Soo line. The stakes which held the logs gave way suddenly and Hubbard was caught beneath them as the mass rolled to the ground.

Cut It Out!
Brander Matthews voiced his opinion that correct language is that language currently used. If that be right, a certain teacher in a Manhattan school was wrong when she indignantly vented her dislike of slang.
But the wrong was more her own than the scholars she reproved. During playtime she had listened to the conversation of a number of the boys and noticed a predominance in their speech of American as it is spoken.
Forthwith she assembled the offenders.

"Boys," she announced, "I wish you would use better language. I find you much addicted to using slang. Remember that we attend school to learn proper words to use. Slang is detestable. Hereafter you will have to cut it out!"
And for a time she wondered why
the boys laughed.—New York Press.

The Lottery in England.

At 5 o'clock on Oct. 18, 1828, an immense crowd gathered at a hall in London to witness the last state lottery draw in England. The drawing of prizes on that occasion occupied less than two hours, whereas lotteries drawn some years previously were protracted for several weeks, the excitement being so great that doctors attended to let blood in cases where the proclaiming of winning tickets proved too overpowering for the holders.

From the days of Queen Anne lotteries had contributed largely toward the revenue, during the latter years bringing in from $1,250,000 to $1, 500,000 per annum. The first public lottery held in England took place on Jan. 11, 1569. It was drawn at the west door of St. Paul's cathedral and continued incessantly, drawing day and night, till May 6 following.

S BROUGHT PREMIUM OF $3010

Bidders Present at Sale of the Bonds by the City Council
Monday Night

& DICKEY CO. GET THEM
The Committee Recommends Paving of Ninth and North Seventh Streets Next Year

was a big bunch of bidders at the regular meeting of the city Monday night when the bonds were offered for sale bonds, after spirited bidding, locked down to the Wells & & Co., of Minneapolis, at a premium of $3,010.

President Twohey called the meeting to order in regular session Monday evening, every member present except Alderman Drexler came in a little later.

Minutes of the regular meeting of October 4th were read and being no objections or corrections were declared approved.

President Twohey stated that inasmuch as there were a large number of bidders present and one of the parlors of the city was temporarily closed while awaiting the opening of his license, the first business taken up would be the granting of John Hagan for a renewal of his saloon license in the Fourth Block. The bond being granted upon by the city attorney and the committee having reported favorable on the application, a motion was made by Alderman Gardner that the same be granted. It was carried by a vote of 10 to 0. Alderman Kjellquist, who voted in the affirmative, stated that the committee to which was referred the petition of the street employes for reduction of hours without loss of pay, asked for further time as the city wished to lay further data before the committee before that body reports. The committee was then granted further time.

The street committee reported adversely on the petition for a sidewalk on block 54.

A bill of C. D. Johnson for sidewalk and curb at the corner of Fifth and Grove streets was on motion allowed.

The street committee, to whom was referred the matter of curbing North Seventh street, reported that the taxes on the property were in excellent condition, less than 1 per cent being unpaid and recommended that as it would be useless to put in catch basins without paving, that the street be paved and curbed next session. The report was on motion allowed.

The same committee reported that North Seventh street the taxes paid with the exception of six cents and recommended that the tax be curbed. The committee stated that it had assurance from the park board and the board of education that the cost of paving the park and on the west side of the Whittier school would be paid this was also recommended for the next session.

The matter of a sidewalk along east side of South Sixth street, between blocks 239 and 269 was referred adversely, the committee reporting that 17 per cent of the taxes were unpaid.

Concerning the paving of North Seventh street, the street committee reported that it found there was 17 per cent of the taxes unpaid, taking the street as a whole, and that taking from Holly to Kingwood 11 per cent is unpaid. The committee stated that it had established a rule not to report favoring any improvements where ten per cent of the taxes on benefitted property was unpaid, and therefore reported adversely on the petition. The report was on motion adopted.

The police committee reported favorably on the petition of Andrew Carlson for permission to transfer his license to W. E. Fitzharris. The city attorney declared the bond all right and the transfer was granted, all voting aye except Alderman Kjell-quist, who voted no.

The report of the finance committee was received and accepted.

A stipulation of settlement between the attorneys for the Port Huron Western Co. and the city in the matter of the steam road roller was read and on motion City Attorney Ryan was authorized to sign the same on behalf of the city. By the terms of the stipulation the city is to pay $1700 and retain both rollers.

Former Alderman Peterson, of the Fourth Ward, appeared before the city council to protest against the action of that body in refusing to allow a bill for janitor service in the Southeast Brainerd hose house. After a discussion which grew quite acrimonious, the matter was referred back to the fire committee for further investigation.

Con O'Brien appeared before the council and asked that the city council vacate that portion of Tenth street between Laurel and Front streets. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

The matter of the sale of the water bonds was then taken up. By agreement with the buyers present, the sale was decided to be held by open auction and all bidders present pulled down their sealed bids. The bids of the unrepresented bidders were opened and found to be as follows: Sevensgood & Meyer, Cincinnati, $59,961; S. A. Keen & Co., Chicago, $58,650; Ulin & Sutherland, Chicago, $58,830. The bid of Seven-good & Meyer, $59,961, was the highest bid but there was no certified check on a Brainerd bank presented, as required, and the other bidders objected to that bid being taken as the basis for bidding, as was agreed that the high sealed bid should be.

What bid fair to be an embarrassing jangle was averted by M. T. Dunn, of the Citizens state bank, who bid a premium of $2,150, or the same as the Sevensgood & Meyer bid. The bonds were bid up by $50 jumps until the premium reached $2,650, after which they were carried up by $5, $10 and $15 raises until the limit was reached at $3,010. Mr. H. B.
Wood, the high bidder, representing the Wells & Dickey Co., offered to take the bonds at par at four and one-half per cent interest. This the council declined to accede to, feeling that the premium was better than the difference in the amount of interest. A resolution accepting the bid of $3,010 premium on the bonds was passed by an unanimous vote.

The next highest bidder was N.
W. Halsey & Co., of Chicago, represented by A. C. Allyn.

The nomination of Rev. Charles Fox Davis to succeed the late T. B.
Hartley as a member of the library board was confirmed by the council.

The matter of heating the city jail was brought up and L. W. Sherlund appeared before the council urging an independent heating plant, saying that he had figured out the capacity of the jail boiler and the amount of radiation and that the boiler there was already overloaded.
Alderman Gardner thought otherwise. He said that when the plant was put in it was found to be more than large enough to heat the building. He thought the janitor would be a better judge than Mr. Sherlund of what the plant at the jail would do and the committee was on motion given further time.

The bill of the water and light board for street lighting was ordered allowed, but not to be paid until there was money in the treasury to spare for a transfer of funds.

The council then adjourned.

WILL CLOSE TWO MORE SCHOOL ROOMS

Committee on Teachers so Recommended at Meeting of Board of Education Monday Night

PAY OF SUBSTITUTES IS FIXED

Board Decides Not to try to Close the Mill School for the Present at Least

The board of education held a special meeting Monday evening, which was called to consider a report of the committee on teachers and for other business.

The following members were present: Messrs. Wise, LaBar, Ilse, Larson, Kaatz, Hohman and President Erickson.

The committee on teachers submitted quite a lengthy report in which they recommended the transferring of pupils so as to close two more rooms, thus dispensing with the services of four teachers, as compared with last year.

A delegation was present from the Mill district to protest against the closing of that school. The committee consisting of the members from the Third ward, to whom was referred that matter, reported recommending that the school be not closed and the report was on motion adopted by the board.

The committee on teachers also reported fixing the pay for substitute teachers as follows: First, second and third grades, $2.50 per day; fourth, fifth and sixth grades, $2.75 per day; seventh and eighth grades, $3.00 per day.

The board then adjourned.

SCARED THE ROBBERS AWAY

Minnesota Man Prevents Looting of a Postoffice.
 Minneapolis, Oct. 19.—Only bullets from a rifle in the hands of J. J. Friesen, clerk in the general store of A. D. Pouliot, Hannel, Hennepin county, kept a gang of men from blowing the safe which contained nearly $200 of Mr. Pouliot's and the government's money. Mr. Pouliot is postmaster and the postoffice is in the rear of his store.
 It was a little after 2 a. m. when Mr. Friesen, who sleeps in a room in the rear of the store, was awakened. The robbers already had taken $75 in stamps from the stamp drawer. They paid no attention to several dollars in cash which was in the drawer in plain sight. They were evidently after only large amounts.
 Mr. Friesen heard the door of the safe rattle and then thought he detected the sound of a drill. He threw open the door of his room and fired without warning.
 "Come on boys, the game is up!" shouted one of the robbers. All fled through the front door. The clerk followed them and fired several more shots as they fled. It is not believed that any of the bullets found their mark.

A DEAL IN DIAMONDS

The True Story of an Ingenious Swindle in London.

A CLEVERLY WORKED GAME.

It Netted an Impecunious Russian Nobleman a Thousand Pounds Sterling. The Easy Manner in Which Count Sacha Got Something For Nothing.

Count Sacha Roubletsky was on his beam ends in London. To the world he was still a dashing young nobleman, son of an immensely wealthy Russian prince, but in point of fact he was financially at his last gasp.
 He wanted a thousand or so for nothing. That was the problem he debated as he sat in his lodging smoking cigarette after cigarette. At last he rose with a satisfied smile. Next morning Count Sacha called on Messrs. Sparkle & Shine, the well known Bond street jewelers. He explained who he was and that he had come to select some jewelry for his sweetheart.

From the glittering tray he selected a beautiful stone, price £500. He then explained that, his remittances being delayed, he was not in a position to complete the purchase at the moment, and, in any case, he wished first to submit the stone to his sweetheart's approval.

He added suavely that as he was unknown to Messrs. Sparkle & Shine he could not expect them to part with the gem without making inquiries, but they were at liberty to apply to the Russian embassy for any information they desired concerning him. He would return the following day and, everything being satisfactory, take the diamond.

To this the jewelers agreed and, inquiring at the Russian embassy, were informed that Count Sacha was unquestionably the son of a wealthy prince and that they would probably be safe in giving him credit for even more than the amount mentioned.

They did not know at the embassy that Sacha had been disowned by his father, and they were agreeable to the count's own suggestion that a member of the embassy should attend at the jeweler's next day to identify him. This was done, and Count Sacha received the diamond. The same day he called at a big pawnbroker's and mentioning briefly that he was in temporary difficulties, pledged the diamond for the small sum of £50.

The next day found Count Sacha again at Messrs. Sparkle & Shine's. His sweetheart, he said, was enchanted with the diamond, but nothing would satisfy her now but that she should have another diamond absolutely matching the first.

The jewelers explained that to match such a stone would be a matter of great difficulty and the price of the second gem would be enormously increased—in short, for such a pair of twin diamonds they would have to charge £3,000. Count Sacha shrugged his shoulders. The price was stiff, but he could deny his sweetheart nothing. Would Messrs. Sparkle & Shine please at once set about procuring the second diamond?

The jewelers, being unable to match the diamond themselves, wrote to the leading dealers and pawnbrokers describing the stone they wanted and intimating that they were prepared to go as far as £2,000 for a perfect specimen. Among those they wrote to was the pawnbroker with whom Count Sacha had pledged the original diamond, which was just what that ingenious rascal expected.

A few days later Count Sacha called at the pawnbroker's to redeem his diamond. The pawnbroker had had Messrs. Sparkle & Shine's letter, and remembering the beautiful diamond pledged with him a day or two before, he had examined it and found that it met all of Sparkle & Shine's requirements.

The count redeemed the stone, and then the pawnbroker inquired whether by any chance he would care to sell it. Oh, no! It was a family heirloom. His customer would not dream of parting with it.

That was a pity, said the pawnbroker. He had chanced to show the diamond to his wife, and she had taken a violent fancy to it—so much so that he was prepared to give a fancy price. He offered £800.

Count Sacha laughed and shook his head. One thousand pounds? Oh, no! He really did not want to sell it. An offer of £1,300, however, made him hesitate. At last, after prolonged chaffering, Count Sacha passed back the diamond to the pawnbroker and received £1,500 in exchange. Once outside he jumped into a cab and drove as fast as he could to Messrs. Sparkle & Shine's.

Arrived there, he explained, with many regrets, that his sweetheart had changed her mind. She no longer wanted the second diamond. Had the jewelers yet found it? No? Ah, that was well! Still, he feared he had put them to much trouble. However, he was glad to say his remittances had arrived and he had now much pleasure in handing over £500 in payment for the original diamond, which his sweetheart had decided to keep.

One thousand pounds to the good, Count Sacha left the shop, having "brought off" a most ingenious swindle. Yet can any one say where he came within reach of the law?—Pearson's Weekly.

MRS. ARBOGAST IS PLACED ON TRIAL

St. Paul Woman Accused of Killing Her Husband.
 St. Paul, Oct. 19.—With tears spasmodically trickling down her cheeks behind a veil of the deepest black, Mrs. Arbogast sat behind her counsel in the criminal court listening to the examination of jurymen who had been summoned to try her for life.

The prisoner, charged with the murder of her husband at their home, 286 West Seventh street, May 13 last, shivered perceptibly when the first few jurymen had been asked regarding their scruples about rendering a verdict where the penalty is death. The frail form of the prisoner was in a constant tremor until the repetition of the question accustomed her to its import.

The selection of a jury was begun immediately after the noon recess, and when court adjourned for the day only three jurors had been selected out of twenty examined. The task will be resumed, and if the same proportion of unsatisfactory jurymen obtains it may be necessary to call for a new panel, as there are only about fifty names left on the list.

The chief difficulty in securing a jury lies with the widespread publicity given the Arbogast murder, and few men on the venire had not either read, discussed or formed an opinion of the case. The published accounts of the crime were responsible for the rejection of several jurymen, although some of them stated they had not formed opinions that could not be changed by the preponderance of evidence.

CASHIER ENDS HIS LIFE

Mother-in-Law Drops Dead on Seeing His Body.

Mineral Point, Wis., Oct. 19.—Beside the grave of his mother in Graceland cemetery, Frank E. Hanscome, cashier of the Mineral Point First National bank, whose doors were closed last week, committed suicide by first taking carbolic acid and then shooting himself in the right temple with a 32-caliber revolver.

As a result of the tragedy, Mrs. John Gray, Sr., Hanscome's aged mother-in-law, is also dead, having succumbed to the shock of her son-in-law's death when she viewed his remains at the residence of his brother-in-law, R. J. Penhaligon.

The cause of Hanscome's suicide is believed to be despondency occasioned by heavy losses and worry over the affairs of the bank.

Phil Allen, Jr., vice president of the bank, who has been under arrest at his home since Friday last, charged with embezzling $165,000 of the bank's funds, stated that Hanscome was entirely innocent of any wrongdoing in connection with the bank.

Hanscome was fifty-three years old and was connected with the First National bank for over twenty-five years.

Northern Pacific Engineers Called Back From Mountains.

Missoula, Mont., Oct. 19.—The Northern Pacific has issued orders to its contractors to abandon their camps on the Lolo Pass hills and to move their men and livestock to the level country between Lolo station and Lolo Springs, in which district work will be continued. The abandonment of high line camps is not taken to mean that the company has decided not to pierce the mountains. It is believed the company is holding the work up until the engineers can cast about for an easier grade for the line.
